

Desalination Plant at Pointe-a-Pierre

June 2008

Petrotrin is taking steps to secure an adequate supply of water to its upgraded refinery. The Desalination Plant project involves the installation of a desalination plant to provide the additional water requirements for the new plants in the refinery. The desalination plant's capacity is around five million imperial gallons per day and the completion is required by the end of September 2009.